

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A modular air induction assembly comprises an air induction body, an air filter operatively attached to the air induction body, and a speaker operatively attached to the air induction body. The modular air induction assembly is then installed into the air induction system of a vehicle during production. The air induction body may also comprise a first portion and a second portion that permits service of the assembly following initial vehicle installation.

N:\Clients\SIEMENS\IP00250\Patent\Application - Integrated and Active Noise Control Inlet.doc